January

Winter in Edale: an incautious step by a young Kirton Lindsey Scout caused him to get firmly stuck in the mud as the group made its way up towards Hollins Cross (1300 feet), in the Peak District National Park. This was also the route taken by many mill workers on a daily basis, who travelled between Castleton and Edale during the nineteenth century.

February

Church House is the administrative hub of the Diocese of Armagh, which extends over parts of counties Londonderry, Tyrone, Armagh and Louth. Located in Abbey Road, it is close to the Cathedral Church of St Patrick, built on the site of the church and monastic community founded by St Patrick in 445.

March

Gerbera is a member of the daisy family and was named after Dr Trugott Gerber, an eighteenth century German botanist and friend of Carl Linnaeus. The plant is native to the tropics and is commonly known as the African daisy. A perennial, it is attractive to insects and birds but resistant to deer. The picture was constructed by combining multiple images focused at different points into a single composite image

April

The common blackbird is a species of true thrush. RS Thomas' poem 'A Blackbird Singing' cites "a suggestion of dark Places about it." However it is not normally seen as a symbol of bad luck. In medieval times the trick of placing live birds under a pie crust just before serving may have been the origin of the nursery rhyme. A blackbird also featured on the UK 4d stamp in 1966.

May

Famous Unitarians were celebrated on Dunas Day by the church in Torockó, Transylvania, Romania. The location is a world heritage site, known as the 'land where the sun rises twice' because of the large 'Rock of the Szeklers' which dominates the area. The pictures of famous Unitarians include Balázs Orbán, Samuel Morse, Ralph Waldo Emerson, William Ellery Channing, Horace Greeley, Pákey Lajos, Brassai Sámuel, Berde Áron and Henry Wordsworth Longfellow.

June

St John's Co-Cathedral in Valletta is considered to be one of the finest examples of high Baroque architecture in Europe. Dedicated to Saint John the Baptist, it was built by the Order of St John between 1572 and 1577. The interior was redecorated by Mattia Pretti and features carved stone walls and a painted vaulted ceiling. By selectively positioning the figures on the ceiling next to the columns, Pretti gives the illusion that they are statues rather than paintings. The marble floor is made up of the tombs of over 400 Knights of the Order.

The Macedonian village of Radožda on Lake Ohrid is the last village before the Albanian border. Above the village in the Jablanica mountains is the church of Saint Michael Archangel, built in a natural cave during the thirteenth century. It is dedicated to the military commander of the Bodiless Army - the Archangel Michael.

August

Bölön Unitarian Church in Transylvania, central Romania, was built on the site of a fifteenth-century church dedicated to Saint Catherine which was destroyed by fire in 1720. The current church incorporates part of a seventeenth-century fortress and was rebuilt in 1894.

The image of the dandelion seed head can be interpreted in many ways, explains Graham Bonham who created the focus-stacked composite image. "It could symbolize transience - the temporariness of existence: there one moment and blown away the next. Alternatively, it could represent fecundity - one bloom produces hundreds of potential new lives - or be about underappreciated beauty: even pesky 'weeds', which many people use 'chemical weapons' against (to the detriment of the environment), have beautiful aspects."

October

The Methodist chapel was built in 1811 by Wesleyan Methodists in the hamlet of Barber Booth, Edale in Derbyshire. The village of Edale grew out of the collection of 'shepherds' shelters or 'booths' in what are now the hamlets of Upper Booth, Barber Booth and Nether Booth. Methodism arrived in the area during the late eighteenth century, possibly coinciding with the growing population who sought work in the cotton mill which was built in Edale in 1795 by Nicholas Cresswell. Edale is a haven for walkers and lies at the beginning of the 267 mile Pennine Way footpath.

November

On Sunday, 18th November 2018 the Non-Subscribing Presbyterian Church of Ireland commemorated the centenary of the end of the First World War with a special service at Downpatrick Non-Subscribing Presbyterian Church. At this service the Roll of Honour of all the men and women of the denomination who served in the Great War was dedicated. This includes the names of 588 men and women, 98 of whom gave their lives. Congregation members and friends decorated the front of the church with memorabilia from the Great War for the service.

December

Ballydugan Lake is a peaceful and tranquil spot just a short distance outside the bustling town of Downpatrick in county Down. Nearby is the Lakeside Inn which provides the venue for the Downpatrick church to hold special events such as table quizzes and treasure hunts. The licensee, Margaret Ferguson, is a church member and was recently awarded the title of Northern Ireland Bar Person of the Year for her charitable work.

“The only condition is that the children selected would not otherwise have a holiday”

Send a Child to HUCKLOW

Send a Child to Hucklow Fund (SACH) was started in 1961 by Rev Peter Godfrey and Rev Glyn Pruce, to provide holidays for disadvantaged children at the Nightingale Centre, Great Hucklow in the Peak District National Park.

The children are selected from agencies such as the Family Service Units, Women's Refuges, Social Service Departments, etc., with no regard to religious considerations.

In 2019 children from across the UK will enjoy a much needed holiday, totally funded and organised by SACH. The charity is run on an entirely voluntary basis and the Hon Secretary is Ernest Baker.

All proceeds from the sale of additional copies of this calendar will go to the fund.
